FACULTY OF HEALTH SCIENCES
CURTIN UNIVERSITY

July 2006 – June 2007

INTRODUCTION

The Centre for Behavioural Research in Cancer Control (CBRCC) commenced in January 2000, part-funded by the Cancer Council of WA and Curtin University of Technology.

Aim

The aim of the Centre for Behavioural Research in Cancer Control (CBRCC) is to increase understanding of the influences on people's behaviours which increase their risk of cancer, and, through this understanding, develop more effective programs to achieve individual and environmental changes that modify these behaviours and hence reduce cancers resulting from these behaviours

The Cancer Council WA

The Cancer Council WA (TCCWA), established in 1958, is the premier organisation in WA focusing on cancer control. In 1998 the Cancer Council of WA identified the need for the establishment of a behavioural research centre in WA to guide the development, delivery and evaluation of cancer control programs.

Curtin University of Technology

The Faculty of Health Sciences at Curtin University of Technology successfully bid to partner the Cancer Council of WA in the establishment of CBRCC.

The Faculty of Health Sciences (FHS) at Curtin is one of the most comprehensive tertiary centres of health study and training in Australia. The FHS offers over 100 academic learning programs, more than two thirds of which are for postgraduate study. These courses are offered to over 6,000 students across eight Schools and nine Centres and Institutes.

CBRCC is located at the Curtin Health Research Campus at Shenton Park. It also maintains an office on the Bentley campus in association with the WA Centre for Health Promotion Research / School of Public Health.

The Centre collaborates with the other Australian centres for behavioural research in cancer control in Victoria, NSW and Queensland and the Cancer Council in WA. It has maintained links with the School of Population Health at the University of Western Australia, the Centre for Child Health Research at Edith Cowan University, and has collaboration within Curtin University, particularly with the School of Public Health, The WA Centre for Health Promotion Research (WACHPR), The National Drug Research Institute (NDRI), The School of Psychology, The CRC in Biosecurity and the Centre for Developmental Health.

The CBRCC was invited to join with the National Drug Research Institute in a Tier One Research grouping established at Curtin in mid 2006. This recognized CBRCC staff expertise and research track record to date along with potential for future high quality research. (This is the only Tier One Research grouping in the Health Sciences at Curtin).

In late 2006 we were notified that the National Research Centre for Asbestos Related Diseases (NRCARD) was to receive funding for a 5-year period. The Centre consists of several research groups under the Directorship of Professor Bruce Robinson at the University of Western Australia. CBRCC is a partner in the research group headed by Professor Bill Musk at UWA.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

CBRCC acknowledges the support of Professor Charles Watson, past -Executive Dean of Health Sciences, Professor Michael Garlepp the Acting Executive Dean of Health Sciences, and the Cancer Council of WA, and its staff in particular Mr Terry Slevin and Ms Denise Sullivan. I also acknowledge the excellent contributions of CBRCC staff, as listed in this Report.

Research program

CBRCC staff identified opportunities to build on several of our current and past projects with new grant applications that are now being prepared for NHMRC and other funding agencies. New collaborations with the Healthway 2007 Visiting Fellow, Professor Annie Anderson from Dundee University (obesity nutrition) who we hosted in July, will strengthen some of these applications.

Publications and presentations

Dissemination of the outputs of research work has been a focus of this period. As well as six book chapters and 23 articles being accepted for publication, 10 others are under review and several others are in preparation.

A large number of conference papers (34) have been presented, in collaboration with members of our research teams, with acceptance of several others for presentation during the second half of 2007. These will also inform the production of refereed journal articles.

A highlight of the period was the launch of the book Global Perspectives on Health Promotion Effectiveness at the IUHPE International Conference in Vancouver in June. I am lead author of the chapter on alcohol. Because of the international nature of this publication (authors from many countries), it is likely to become an important reference for many university academic programs around the world, as well as a significant general reference with respect to evidence on the effectiveness of health promotion interventions.

Peter Howat
Director, CBRCC

The rest of this Report summarizes only activities where a staff member actually on the CBRCC payroll has been actively involved.
