“To me, integrity is more than just doing the right thing. It means going out of your way to make things better.”

Marc Phillips’ interest in volunteering was sparked when he joined Curtin Volunteers! as an undergraduate. He later worked in Curtin’s Support Services and local government, before returning to manage CV!. He now runs volunteering and leadership activities to enrich the student experience and benefit the wider community.